Motor Coach Routes On Island Highways Brought Into Merger

Vancouver Island Transportation Company Acquires Union Stage & Taxi Company's Business, and Also That of Ritchie Stages to Campbell River From Courtenay

Neither Staff Nor Schedules Disturbed by New Management

THE Vancouver Island Transportation Company, through its president, Mr. C. H. L. Bransford, announces the purchase by the company of the Union Stage & Taxi Company, Nanaimo, and the stage routes from Courtenay to Campbell River and district, conducted by Mr. Charles Ritchie. This gives the public direct communication from Victoria to all parts of the Island by motor stage in continuous service of one company, as the company some time ago acquired the Gray Line coach service to Nanaimo.

The maximum route of the company will be 210 miles, also making connection for the West Coast points at Parksville, 100 miles north of Victoria.

SERVICES ACQUIRED
The Union Stage Company operates fine coaches on the work between Nanaimo and Port Alberni, with connections by local buses at Alberni to Great Central and Spruce Lake. North of Courtenay, the company, connecting at Parksville for traffic from Courtenay direct to the West Coast.

The coach service built up by Mr. Ritchie to Campbell River, and the logging camps of that district to Mendocino Bay and Forbes Landing, has been steadily improved by him, his coaches meeting stages from Nanaimo at Union Street, Courtenay, in close-time connections. Mr. Ritchie will continue to manage this portion of the route personally.

UNION STAGE COMPANY
The Union Stage Company is the tangible proof of the work of Mr. Thomas D. Colclough, well known transportation man, who has conducted his business on Vancouver Island with the same energy and thoroughness with which he organized the motor coach service between Vancouver and New Westminster, which grew into the present Rapid Transit Company, controlled by the B.C. Electric Railway.

Mr. Colclough has given the closest personal supervision to the services over of Nanaimo, and is widely known there, as well as on the Lower Mainland. He proposed to take a holiday, and visit his old home in England, where he has not been for thirty-two years. His future plans are therefore indefinite. The transaction affecting lines north of Nanaimo includes nine parcels of land, and modern equipment, having accommodation for thirty-two passengers each.

All motor depots, booking offices and services rendered at each terminal will remain unchanged, and schedules will be improved as opportunity offers. The change will be made with a minimum of disturbance to staff and patrons.

Negotiations for the transfer have been concluded personally by Mr. J. S. H. Malson, a director of the transportation company.

ALLAN CUP FINALS
PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Dec. 7.—Possession of the Allan Cup for the season of 1929-30 will be decided at Winnipeg when the finals are staged on the ice of the Amphitheatre rink, according to a statement made publicly here this morning by W. A. Fry, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

GRAIN EN ROUTE TO ELEVATOR

Mr. A. J. Gibson Says Between Three and Five Million Bushels to Be Handled Here This Season

HUNDREDS OF CARS COMING

Chamber Learns First Outbound Steamer Loaded With Grain at Victoria to Sail in January

PROBABLY between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 bushels of grain will be handled by the grain elevator in Victoria this season. There are now thirty-five cars of grain en route to the terminal, and between Port Mann and the terminal, and hundreds of cars are en route to Victoria. The first outbound steamer loaded with grain at Victoria will sail from here early in January, and it will most likely be a vessel for the Orient," declared Mr. A. J. Gibson, first vice-president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday, in addressing the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday in the chamber dining-room. Mr. P. B. Fowler, president of the chamber, presided.

Mr. Gibson stated, amid applause, that the port of Victoria was now made a grain port, and forecasted the capacity of storage at the elevator here would be within the next two years materially increased.

EASTERN ON COAST

The speaker said the Victoria elevator was one of the finest grain terminals of its size in Canada, and had been described by experts in the grain trade as one of the best houses in the world. As far as the shipping facilities were concerned, it is the fastest in the Pacific Coast.

He also anticipated that the city would do so.

Cross appeal was entered by Mr. Campbell, asking that a commission of 3 per cent be paid him as the agent.

Walberg denied making any arrangements as regards commission with Campbell, stating that he had not been authorized by the company to do so.

I. C. Hellmuth, K.C., for defendant, argued that the Statute of Frauds was applicable to the contract in question. He declared there had been only a verbal agreement.

Admission by Mr. Hellmuth for the admission of new evidence was laid over till the conclusion of the argument.

D. L. McCarthy, K.C., appearing for Mr. Campbell, declared that, on the strength of the contract said to have been made, Walberg, in collaboration with the Dominion Securities, floated an issue of $150,000, Mr. McCarthy contended that Walberg had practically assumed himself of an annual income of $1,000,000 a year; that he had obtained a site for his mill, and his output sold for ten years.

Upon the prices set by other pulp and paper companies as formerly, and that this had been made an actuality through the agency of his client.

To Study Effect
Of Tidal Dam on Maritime Fishery

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—The effect on Maritime fisheries of the proposed scheme to harness the tides in the Bay of Fundy for hydro-electric power, will be examined by a committee of Canadian and United States experts who will meet in Eastport, Maine, on December 12, W. A. Pound, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, announced today.

It involves construction of dams in the Passamaquoddy, by means of which the tides can be used for generating an estimated amount of 625,000 horsepower. The effect on fisheries is stated by officials here to be the most important question involved.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR P.A.T.A. PLEA

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—The question whether the Criminal Investigation Act and Section 409 of the Criminal Code which provides for certain penalties in cases of infraction of the law, are ultra vires of the Federal Parliament, will be submitted to the Supreme Court of Canada, it was intimated in a statement issued today from the Department of Justice.

The reference arises out of the report of the commissioner, issued some time ago on the activities of the Proprietary Articles Trade Association. The commissioner found that the P.A.T.A. was a combine within the meaning of the act.

JUDGES MAY JAIL JUDGE IN MONTREAL

Lower Court Takes Drastic Action in Defiance of Writ of Prohibition Issued by Superior Court

THIRD COURT TO TRY LEGAL REBEL

MONTREAL, Dec. 7.—The most unusual case of a judge of one court being served with a notice that he must appear before another court to answer a contempt of court charge, was seen here today when Judge J. O. Lacroix, of the Court of Sessions, was served with a notice declaring that the judge had committed contempt of court in disregarding a prohibition order of the Superior Court in the case of Commune Russo and Dominique Polissano, whom he sent to jail yesterday for two years each on charges of breaking and entering.

The affair started on the day of the St. Mary's provincial by-election, October 24, when a group of men entered the headquarters of the Liberal candidate and took election lists. Mr. Justice Lacroix, in the Superior Court on Wednesday, issued a writ of prohibition to restrain the lower court from proceeding with the trial of the two men.

IGNORED WRIT
Mr. Justice Lacroix stated that he had all possible respect for the higher courts, nevertheless he had representations were made in the petition for the writ of prohibition, and I consider that I had a right to do so.

The motion asking that the judge be declared in contempt of court and that he be imprisoned in the common jail for one year unless he conforms with the writ of prohibition, will be presented in Practice Court Monday.

AUSTRALIA WILL MAKE PULP FROM HARDWOOD

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—Canada's export of pulp wood to Australia will soon meet with stiff competition among the papermakers in the latter country, according to I. H. Boas, of Melbourne, who arrived here today.

Mr. Boas, who is chief of the division of forest products and secretary of the council of scientific and industrial research, said that after years of experimenting, Australia had succeeded in converting its hardwoods into a high grade of paper, a process considered almost impossible a few years ago.

Mr. Boas will confer with Government officials here concerning forest conservation methods.

GENERAL B. BOOTH SLOWLY RECOVERING

LONDON, Dec. 7.—General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, continued to make slow but steady improvement from the illness which he suffered for weeks. Daily medical bulletins were some time ago abandoned by his physicians, but Army headquarters here are kept informed of the progress made by their chief.

Bridge Suit
Hearings End
In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—Concluding the eighth day of the present session and the eleventh day of the trial of Burrard Tunnel & Bridge Company's suit against the B.C. Railway, Mr. Justice Martin in the Supreme Court on Friday reserved his decision.

This case constitutes one of the most important areas of litigation that has been before the court for some time. The bridge company sued for $8,000, claimed as damages when the B.C. Railway collided with the Second Narrows bridge on March 10, 1926.

The plaintiff steamship counter-claimed for $75,000 on the ground that the bridge was illegally constructed and constitutes an obstruction to navigation.

CONDITION OF KING CAUSES LESS ANXIETY

His Majesty's Private Secretary Telegraphing From Buckingham Palace Sends Encouraging Message

PHYSICIAN SAYS BULLETIN GOOD

Restlessness of King During Day Said to Be Effect of Needle and X-Ray Examinations Made

LONDON, Dec. 8 (Saturday).—It was learned semi-officially at Buckingham Palace tonight that the strength of the King is being well maintained. Physicians who examined the X-ray photographs made by Dr. Hodgson regarded them as being of satisfactory nature. The negative testimony of the plates showing very little effusion means that the ordinary treatment will be continued in the case. It is understood that the needle exploration referred to in the evening bulletin was carried out by Sir Stanley and Lord Dawson during the morning, and that it was this and the X-ray examination later which accounted for the restlessness of the King during the day.

The private secretary of the King, in telegraphing from the Palace tonight thanks for a message of sympathy, concluded with: "His Majesty's symptoms are improving, and the situation is less anxious."

Sir Robert Armstrong Jones, an eminent physician, described the morning bulletin as "the most comforting since the King fell ill."

Both the Prince of Wales and Duke of Gloucester made steady progress on their homeward journey. The heir to the throne reached Suez, departing straightway for Port Said, where he will embark on the cruiser Enterprise.

His younger brother sailed from Capetown. Thus, all the King's sons, with the exception of Prince George, who is on navy duty in the Atlantic, will soon be in London.

Lord Lee, of Fareham, chairman of the Sulgrave Manor Board, speaking in public tonight, said that there was no early prospect for the King's recovery.

INQUIRIES FOR MILL PROPERTIES

Sawmills are preparing to shut down for the Christmas season at many points on the Island and Lower Mainland, according to custom, after a longer period of continuous operation than has been usual for several years. Shingle manufacturers are also planning to fall into line, to prevent flooded markets early in the new year.

British Columbia shingle men are now in session in Vancouver with regard to their prospects.

On the Island there have been a few inquiries for new properties, and among them is the long accommodation on the Great Central Lake branch of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, and to provide up-tracks for a new shipper to tidewater.

A new portable sawmill is going into Mill Bay, consigned to the Quadra Land Company, half up the coast of the Island, the machine being complete in every way for operation.

Nothing is yet known with regard to possible operations on the Malahat limits, recently sold to the H. R. McMillan Company. It is understood, however, that several inquiries for timber are being made by millmen of their limits in sight, and who are looking round for holdings to be cut over a term of years, paying on the installment plan based on the price of logs in September.

The impression seems to be that forest products output in 1928 on Vancouver Island will be a substantial advance on last year, due to the comparative absence of fire during the hazard season, which avoided the serious shutdowns of past Summers.

Sent 7,000 Miles
For 40 Dogs for Byrd Expedition

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—A seven-thousand-mile dash from Dunedin, N.Z., to the Yukon, to get forty huskies to replace some thirty-seven dogs of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, who died, is being made by Bill Riley, dog driver, who arrived here today on the liner Adair.

Contaminated water is believed to have caused the deaths of forty huskies. Commander Byrd commissioned him to go to the Yukon to replace them and return as soon as possible to New Zealand. There he will connect with one of Byrd's ships and proceed to the Antarctic with the dogs to join the rest of the party.

SHINGLEMEN MEET

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—Market reaction and trade protection is the motto of the Shinglemen's Bureau of the United States, which is in congress here, for the first time in its history, joined by members of the British Columbia shingle men's organization. The convention took place today as one of the largest held under the auspices of the bureau.

FAST FUNDATION OF LIQUID MUD EXPLODES INTO TUNNELS

Candidates Will Speak Tonight in Council Chamber

A MEETING will be held in the city council chamber at 8 o'clock tonight, when candidates for aldermanic honors, school trustees, and police commissioner will outline their platforms. It was announced yesterday by Mr. R. E. Collis, candidate for alderman, who has completed the arrangements with city officials. So far this is the only public meeting of candidates other than mayoralty candidates, that will be held during the civic election campaign.

Mr. Herbert Anson, candidate for mayor, will hold a meeting in the Coliseum Theatre on Monday night, to which Alderman P. B. Brown has been invited. On Wednesday night Alderman Brown will hold a final meeting of the campaign in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Between these meetings the candidates will give speeches over the radio.

Upper Surface of Copper Mine Bursts Open Under Pressure of Enormous Weight--Deafening Concussions--Terrific Inrush Expels Air In Roaring Blasts

Twenty-Seven Men Buried
Beyond Reach in Galleries

May Be Two Months Before Bodies Can Be Recovered--Fissure Said to Be Twenty Yards Wide and One Hundred and Fifty Yards Long--Wild Panic

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 7.—Dispatches from Morococha, where a small lake broke through the roof of the Campano mine, a copper workings belonging to the Cerro de Pasco Copper Corporation, said that the galleries were filling with mud and that it might be two months before the bodies of the victims could be recovered. The Ministry of Public Works today announced that the deaths totaled twenty-seven, among them Castin McGregor, an American engineer. Thirteen other men were entombed in the Alejandria mine, but were rescued. An account of the disaster sent to the newspaper El Comercio said that a fissure twenty yards wide and 150 in length opened in the mine.

The excavation work below ground had been extended upward, weakening the roof of the galleries under San Francisco Pond. Forty thousand tons of mud and water poured into the workings with such force that air was driven from the mine with a terrific roar. One of the mine's men, who escaped, said that the victims probably had been suffocated by the liquid mud.

This foreman was quoted as saying there was a panic among the mine workers at the first blast of air and deafening concussions. They scattered in all directions, and those who escaped were fortunate to pick routes that led into open galleries away from the flood. The dispatches said that some of the miners were excited about the accident, and were threatening to take the state troops were assisting the local police.

Ballot Check to Be Concluded
Next Monday

The official count of the ballots in the Federal election on Thursday is in progress. This takes place before the returning officer, Mr. P. R. Leighton. The count was commenced Friday and adjourned until 2:30 o'clock on Monday, when it is expected to complete the work.

This count does not mean that the ballots are again counted by the returning officer. The official count consists of the opening of the boxes as sealed up by the deputies on the night of the election. The official statements of the state of the polls in the different wards are thereupon examined and the result tabulated by the officer in charge.

While it is too soon to say what the result will be when the count is finished, Mr. Leighton has no reason to doubt the figures will be practically the same as published in The Colonist yesterday morning.

Women Voters Oppose To Divorced Candidate

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Whether divorce should end a man's political career is the question which has arisen in the big parliamentary constituency of South Kensington, London. A feminine crusade has been started against the re-election of Sir William Davidson, who has represented the district in the House of Commons for ten years.

Mrs. Davidson recently divorced Sir William, and women of the constituency, who number the men voted by 47,000 to 20,000, are proposing to run an opposition candidate. Some of the women hold that a divorced man should not be allowed to sit in Parliament. The constituency is the only one in London in which there is a preponderance of feminine voters. Sir William has announced his intention to fight for his seat.

PRINCE'S PLAN ASSISTS CREW

PRINCE OF WALES TO RE-EMBARK ON CRUISER ENTERPRISE AT PORT SAID

Members of Crew Themselves Gain Much Desired Christmas Leave at Their Homes

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Daily Mail tomorrow will say that consideration for the crew of the cruiser Enterprise decided the Prince of Wales to re-embark on that vessel at Port Said instead of taking the cruiser Prohibitor at Alexandria for Brindisi.

During his voyage from Dar-es-Salaam to Suez, the Prince learned that the Enterprise had been originally scheduled to arrive in England on December 16, after two years of foreign service.

The crew were looking forward to Christmas leave. The sending of the vessel to Africa interfered with the plan, and it appeared that the Admiralty would hold her at Suez until after Christmas.

The Prince thereupon radioed home that he preferred to continue his voyage on the Enterprise, thus insuring the crew of a Christmas holiday at home.

Major A. V. Hamilton Given Appointment

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—Major A. V. Hamilton, of Victoria, who recently resigned from the purchasing department of the Provincial Government after several years' service, has received appointment to the staff of the Provincial Public Works Department in Vancouver. It has been announced. Major Hamilton's appointment follows pressure for his reinstatement by several delegations. He is well known in Victoria.

Needling Food
Indians May Kill Beaver

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—On account of the influenza epidemic among the natives and half-breeds in the Mackenzie district, in consequence of which the great hardship is experienced in procuring their food supplies, the Government has lifted the ban on killing of beaver. The natives are now permitted to kill beaver for the head of each family, but must surrender the pelts to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Miss Alice Longfellow
Dies in Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 7.—Miss Alice Longfellow, the "Grave Alice" of Longfellow's poem, "The Children's Hour," died today. In the poem, which has been read by millions, the poet depicted his own children by name. She was born in September, 1850. Part of her education was obtained in England, and in later years she visited Europe many times. Only one of her sisters, mentioned in the poem survives, Mrs. Anne Thorpe, of this city.

Guelph, Ont., Gives Reception for Famous Son.

GUELPH folks tendered a reception worthy of the royal city for their favorite son, Edward Johnson, singer of international reputation, whom they remember as the schoolboy too shy to go on the platform at a church concert and who had to struggle with all the boyish determination he could command to get the "nerve" necessary to enable him to sing such pieces as "Little Annie Rooney" at band concerts. Above in No. 1 is shown James Davidson, principal emeritus of the Guelph Collegiate, who was principal when Johnson was a student and who recalls the latter's student days. Mr. Davidson was largely instrumental in guiding Johnson to follow music as his life work. The great singer is himself shown in No. 2, and in No. 3 is shown his daughter, Ferienna, which is Italian for Florence. She was born in Florence, Italy, and it was in that city where Mr. Johnson lost his wife and Ferienna, her mother. For a time the young lady, who is now eighteen years of age, studied in Guelph, Ontario, but she has been recently following music studies in the most celebrated schools of Europe and America. In No. 4 the house in which Mr. Johnson was born is shown. It is located at 17 Verney Street, Guelph. A reproduction of a photo of the football team of which "Eddie" Johnson was captain is shown in No. 5. Charles Kelly, "Eddie's" first music teacher, who shares credit with Mr. Davidson, of the High School, for guiding the young man into a musical career is shown in No. 7. No. 6 shows David Young, who is principal of the public school now, and in "Eddie's" days Mr. Young remembers many of the incidents of the early days of the great singer.

CONDITION OF KING CAUSES LESS ANXIETY

The speedy and happy recovery of the King, Sir Stanley Hewett again slept at Buckingham Palace tonight.

EXAMINATIONS MADE.
LONDON, Dec. 7.—The King had a restless day in his struggle against his illness, which he has been combating for a fortnight or more. Tonight's bulletin from his physicians made that statement, but brought out that the patient had undergone a radiological examination this afternoon. The examination corroborated previous exploration of the pleural cavity by needle, which showed that there was no appreciable effusion.

On the whole the day and evening bulletins together gave evidence of fairly favorable development in the King's condition. The morning report announced that his general strength had been maintained, and the evening bulletin said that the general condition remained unchanged. From these facts it was inferred that the King's heart action for the moment, at least, was not giving any anxiety to his attendants. The evening bulletin was timed 8:15 o'clock, which was about an hour after the physicians had arrived at the palace. It was signed by the regular doctors, Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, also by H. G. Hodgson, who made today's X-ray examination. He had also conducted the first radiological test of the royal patient. The bulletin said: "The King has not had a restful day, a radiological examination being carried out this afternoon. Neither this nor the exploration by needle previously carried out has disclosed any appreciable amount of pleural effusion. The general condition remains unchanged."

No great importance was attached at Buckingham Palace to the statement that the King had not had a restful day. It was pointed out that this may have been partly due to the ordeal of the radiological examination. Further indications that anxiety in royal circles was diminishing were given.

Stiff, Rheumatic Joints Quickly Limbered Up

Every Rheumatic Sufferer
Interested in Getting Well

White's Cove, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Hugh Cameron, a well-known local resident, testifies to the remarkable pain-controlling power of Neville's. She has used it for a number of years, and has the best to say for this penetrating liniment. Gooden, N.S.—Mr. Joseph M. Haley says Neville's is far the best liniment he ever used. For aches, pains or sprains it cannot be praised enough. Neville's should be in every home, handy on the bathroom shelf. There is hardly an ache or a pain in the whole family it will not relieve. Try it for sore muscles, stiff joints, lame back, neuralgia or rheumatism. Large 25c bottle sold by all dealers. (Adv.)

GRAIN EN ROUTE TO ELEVATOR

of Victoria will ever be called upon to put up $1 for the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal for bond interest or principal," Mr. Gibson declared.

Mr. Gibson told his hearers of some of the difficulties which the Panama Pacific had met with in obtaining grain concessions and buying facilities. He observed that other big terminal firms had met with these obstacles at the beginning, and said that the Panama Pacific was successfully overcoming the difficulties just as the other firms had done.

TRIBUTE PAID
In reviewing the initial efforts of the promoters of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminal, the speaker paid tribute to Mr. J. S. H. Matson for his public-spirited action in backing him in obtaining finances for the project. "As a result of Mr. Matson's assistance and support, you have the grain elevator in Victoria at the present time," he stated.

FORM SYNDICATE TO DEVELOP PLACER CLAIMS AT STEWART

In order to secure funds to prospect the placer claims on White River, staked last Spring by Fitz-Gerald Brothers and associates, the White River Placer Syndicate has been formed with head office in Stewart, and a treasury of 20,000 units of $5. Trustees are S. Fitz-Gerald, Frank Fisher and E. D. Haddon.

Considerable hand prospecting has been done on the ground, enough to convince the owners that they have a property that is worthy of serious investigation, which they know will cost a considerable amount of money. The ground is undoubtedly a dredging proposition, and the logical procedure, preliminary to operations, is to thoroughly prospect the ground with a key-stone drill. It is the intention to raise the necessary money this winter and move in with a prospecting outfit early in the Spring.

Cable Sale Debated

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The clause of the Imperial Telegraphs Bill, authorizing the sale of the Imperial cables, was carried in the House of Commons during the committee stage tonight, by a vote of 186 to 101. The vote followed an unsuccessful attempt by Labor members to have the Government disclose the evidence given before the conference of Empire representatives regarding the valuation placed on the Government-controlled cables.

Reporter (to famous footballer): "What was the most exciting match you played in?"

Footballer: "It was a cup final. The score was two-all, with two minutes to go. I had the ball on my toe, and was tearing through the opposing defence. I saw the referee look at his watch, the crowd yelled 'Shoot, man, shoot!' and I shot."

Reporter (excitedly): "Did you score?"
Footballer: "Score, man, why took ten minutes to get my foot free between the bed rails?"

REFINERIES ARE PLANNED IN EAST

Reported That Copper and Zinc
May Be Treated in Eastern
Canada

Two new and distinct departures in Eastern Canadian mining are now proposed, the erection of a copper refinery by a company to be controlled by Nickel and Noranda, and the construction of an electrolytic zinc plant by a company the nucleus of which would be Noranda, Amulet, Abana, Waite-Montgomery and many lesser luminaries in the mining world, according to information from the East.

Mr. Connell, who is a director of Noranda, Abana and Amulet, is now in Belgium for the purpose of studying the possibilities of the establishment of a zinc refinery. Mr. Murdoch has recently paid several visits to New York and has been in conference with the chairman of International Nickel on the feasibility of a copper refinery.

At first glance the significance of the creation of these two refineries is not plainly evident. Copper and refined zinc with their alloys and numerous attendant products used commercially are for the most part imported into Canada. This possible refining of the red and white metals will serve to foster the introduction of capital into new channels for the propagating and development of industries hitherto alien to the industrial growth of Canada.

New copper industries may be developed, such as the manufacturing of copper wire for power transmission and in telegraph, cable, telephone electric railway and electric light installations; also rolling mills for the making of sheets, tubes, rods, bolts, nails and rivets used extensively in domestic and industrial products. An important part is played in the brasses, the bronzes and nickel-silver by copper. Large amounts of copper are required for the hardware, plumbing and automobile industries. Zinc is largely used in galvanizing seamless drawn tubes, bearing metals, and brasses of all kinds, as a reducing agent in the making of dye, and in the precipitation of gold, silver and copper from their solutions, as zinc oxide in the oil and rubber industry and in the making of paints.

Sea Island Site Finally Chosen To Be Airport

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—The Sea Island site was definitely selected for the permanent airport for both seaplanes and land planes, by the intermunicipal air board yesterday. The North Fraser Harbor Commission, which has jurisdiction over the North Arm of Fraser River, will bring in a report on the method of financing and controlling the airport.

Major D. R. MacLaren said flying men were convinced that the North Shore location was not suitable, owing to the prevalence of smoke, haze, and fog. There was good visibility at the mouth of Fraser River when Burrard Inlet was enveloped in fog 2,000 feet deep, he stated.

"What do you take for a head-ache?"
"Liquor, the night before."

POLICE BATONS STRIKE CHINESE HEADS IN RAID

Defence Counsel Protests
Force Used by Officers—
Chief Fry Tells of Difficulties Faced by Squad

CHINESE DECLINE TO OBEY ORDERS

That he had been instructed that three Chinese who were in the Dal You Club, in Pan Tan Alley, which was raided by police officers on Thursday night, had been struck over the head with batons during the raid, was the declaration made by Mr. William C. Moreby, K.C., counsel for seventeen Chinese taken in the raid, in the city police court yesterday.

Mr. Moreby protested against force reported to have been employed by the police in arresting the Chinese. "I think a mild protest should be uttered. In making such raids, care should be taken by the police not to use unnecessary force."

Chief Fry informed the court that the Chinese had adopted the practice of having the doors to the gambling houses wide open, with a watchman nearby. When the alarm of a raid was given, the inmates of the house would make a concerted rush through the door, attempting to break through the police cordon. It was necessary at times to use a certain amount of force to hold them.

TO PREVENT INJURY
Mr. Moreby admitted the police had a right to prevent the escape of persons committing an offence against the law.

"But surely in a case of this nature, where the offence is not very serious, a little ordinary care should be taken to prevent injuries. I don't think anyone would countenance the using of clubs on the men's heads under these circumstances," Mr. Moreby concluded.

"If they don't like force it will be necessary for them to quit their gambling," replied the chief. "They were all told to stand back when the police entered, but disobeyed the order and attempted to break out."

THEIR PREROGATIVE
Magistrate George Jay interposed with the statement that it was the prerogative of the police to use a certain amount of force, if it was deemed necessary.

City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison remarked that the Chinese had engaged in many raids against Chinese gamblers while with the force, and that no unnecessary violence had been shown in making the arrests.

The seventeen Chinese captured in the police raid pleaded guilty through Mr. Moreby to being inmates of a common gaming house and each was fined the sum of $8.

The Judge sternly: "Well, what's your alibi for speeding sixty miles an hour through the residence section?"

The Victim—I had just heard, Your Honor, that the ladies of my wife's church were giving a rummage sale and I was hurrying home to save my other pair of pants.

The Judge—Case dismissed.

EXPLAINS NEED OF HOSPITAL BY-LAW

Mr. Vaughan Roberts, Chairman of Jubilee Hospital's Finance Committee, Makes Statement

"Any charitable organization which has a superfluity of funds is not functioning to capacity. While all reasonable care is taken by the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital to prevent waste, it is practically impossible for us to operate the institution in a manner which permits the accumulation of a surplus fund to take care of such extraordinary capital expenditure as is represented in the building of a new nurses' home, so we are compelled to look to the taxpayer to help us out," said Mr. Vaughan Roberts, chairman of the Jubilee Hospital directors' finance committee, in a statement made to The Colonist last evening prefacing the board's campaign to enlist the support of the electorate for the hospital by-law which is being presented during the forthcoming municipal election.

Mr. Vaughan Roberts reiterated what has already been stated about the overcrowded condition which has arisen both in connection with the housing of the nurses and the housing of the patients. The first nurses' home was opened on January 1, 1909, providing accommodation for twenty-five nurses. As time went on the services of the hospital increased to such an extent that nine years later another addition was made to provide for a further twenty-five. But this was only temporary relief. Every annual report for some years past had called attention to the crowded quarters of one or other departments of the hospital.

QUARTERS INADEQUATE
"When we were engaged with the details of construction of the new wing opened in 1925, we had hopes of adjusting the accommodation of the nursing staff by utilizing sections of the old building. This arrangement served for only a short time, as within a year or two we found all the hospital accommodation was required for care of the increasing number of patients. We have ninety-six pupil nurses occupying quarters in the old building. Rooms which were formerly private wards, accommodating one patient only, now have to accommodate four nurses. The McBride Ward, which was added in 1910, is now crowded. It had only sixteen patients, is now occupied by twenty-two nurses, and we have even had to utilize the sun porch for convalescents. After most serious deliberation the board of directors came to the conclusion that temporary measures were, after all, only a poor economy, and that a new home was absolutely imperative," said Mr. Roberts in rehearsing the history of conditions leading up to the present appeal for support of the by-law which, if passed, will give the funds necessary to supplement the Government grant for the building of a new nurses' home and reconditioning of the old Strathcona Ward for the accommodation of patients.

Members of the Government and of the City Council had visited the hospital in person and seen conditions; all were unanimous that the board was justified in its decision to build a nurses' home with which

REV. S. R. ORR FOUND GUILTY

Verdicts Given in Divorce Suit and in Action for Assault—Reasons Are Stated

VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—Costs on the highest scale have been awarded against Rev. Samuel Robertson Orr, co-respondent, by Mr. Justice Aulay Morrison, in Supreme Court, to John Gordon Fleck, Vancouver, who was previously granted by His Lordship an absolute decree of divorce from Margaret Winifred Fleck. The marriage took place in Toronto on June 11, 1910.

Custody, maintenance and education of a twelve-year-old daughter of the marriage were entrusted to Mr. Fleck.

His Lordship told Dugald Donaghy, K.C., counsel for Mr. Orr, that he had found that improper conduct occurred between the co-respondent and the respondent on evidence outside of Mrs. Fleck's confession.

ASSAULT CASE
Vancouver, Dec. 7.—Charged with assault upon H. B. Robertson, K.C., Rev. S. Robertson Orr was found guilty in a decision handed down by Magistrate J. A. Findlay in police court today.

A fine of $100 or in default two months' imprisonment was ordered.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEM

According to Government statistics immigration into Canada for the seven months, ending October 31, last, totaled 131,754 persons, of whom only 47,390 came from the British Isles. The seven months' total includes 42,500 persons from the non-preferred countries of Europe—Ruthenians, Poles, Magyars, Slovaks, Yugoslavs and Lithuanians. Of the balance there were 21,374 immigrants from the United States, and 20,447 from Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Holland and Finland. From the above figures it is apparent that British immigrants are now constituting less than 36 per cent of the immigration to Canada. The percentage is altogether too low.

It is full time that all the "irritating restrictions" against British immigration be removed, and that, so far as foreign countries are concerned, there should be a quota under a selective process applying to those not of the British race. The present Government may want foreign immigrants for ephemeral reasons which have to do with political exigencies, but in wanting them it is not showing vision in the building upon a Canadian nationhood. As history shows the structure of nationhood is a problem in biology. In a country like Canada, which depends, in some measure, on developing population from the outside, it is the duty of any Government to have vision and by its actions exercise control over the character of those who are to form the basis of future population. At present, in proportion to those of foreign blood, far too few British immigrants are being encouraged to come to the Dominion.

THE CHIGNECTO CANAL

All who have studied the geography of the East of the Dominion must have been struck with the advantages which would accrue if a canal across the Chignecto Isthmus, which divides Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, was constructed. Such construction would entail no very serious engineering difficulties, for the space to be excavated is but eighteen miles long, more than seventeen miles of which are through easy material. By the digging of the canal the Gulf of St. Lawrence can be connected with the Bay of Fundy, and the water route from Central Canada to Fundy ports, Atlantic Coast ports of the United States, the West Indies and both coasts of South America would be shortened by hundreds of miles, and it would be possible also to avoid the perilous Sable Island area of the Atlantic.

It was in 1870 that a Royal Commission strongly advocated the construction of the Chignecto Canal as part of a national system of first class waterways, to embrace the Saint John, the Westmain Canal and the St. Lawrence Canal. "All these latter projects," says The Toronto Saturday Night, "have been carried out at a cost of $200,000,000, but mischance assailed the Chignecto scheme, and local interests on the Atlantic Coast of Nova Scotia were not favorable." As a matter of fact, after the Mackenzie Administration had voted money for preliminary work, it was sidetracked by the alternative project of a ship railway, backed by British capital, which in the end proved a disastrous failure, and placed the whole question of linking up the Gulf of St. Lawrence with the Bay of Fundy under a cloud.

The Chignecto Canal is an essential part of any broad plan for the deepening of the St. Lawrence waterway, and if the latter project is to mature it will ultimately be constructed. The cost is estimated at not more than $8,000,000, a mere flea-bite when compared with the cost of the new Hudson Bay Railway, whose value to the Dominion has yet to be justified, and upon which lavish sums are yet to be spent. While Halifax and Nova Scotians generally may be lukewarm toward the proposal, in fear of dislocation of trade, such alarm would seem to be ill-founded. Halifax would certainly in the end benefit from a public work which would help materially to build up prosperity in the Maritimes as a whole.

THE NOISE OF TRAFFIC

The noise of motor traffic, a problem which only came to the fore within the last year, is now exercising medical and political opinion both on this continent and in Europe. In Britain a memorandum on the subject has been submitted to the Government by the doctors and action is urged. There is a variety of opinions about the nature of the action to be taken. The importance of the problem and the necessity for a solution is impressed strongly in a recent issue of The British Medical Journal. It says that unless something is done quickly, "to check the growing volume of sound that assaults our ears, we may find ourselves deprived more and more of that capacity for sustained work, for clear thinking and energetic action, which is the mainstay of civilized life." All informed medical opinion is a unit in the belief that there are devastating effects on the health and efficiency of the people through the noise of traffic.

Medical opinion holds that there is no argument against the noise of traffic in the fact that there is apparent good health among men and women who are engaged in industries in which work has to be done to the inevitable accompaniment of the noise of machinery. The Medical Journal in answering that argument says: "The diversion of a certain amount of energy to the necessary task of inhibiting the undesirable stimuli of ignoring noises nerve-racking to those who hear them only occasionally must involve an inevitable loss of personal and industrial efficiency." In the noise of motor traffic there are sudden changes of quality, pitch or intensity. There is nothing "rhythmic, uniform or predictable." Street noises are "unrhythmic, discordant, extremely varied in quality, pitch and intensity, and above all unpredictable." There thus exists a case for the suppression of this noise as much as is possible. Street noises are depriving more and more people of sleep, especially in large cities. They militate against recovery from sickness where rest is essential. They are sapping the nervous strength of the skilled worker.

The marvel is that the people have stood this noise so long without protest, and the only reason put forward is that public opinion is unorganized, while it is also probable, because the present high pitch of street noises has only been reached gradually, that its deleterious effects are not yet fully appreciated. The fact is that much of the noise to which humanity is now subjected is avoidable and could be diminished by voluntary effort. That effort, however, is not exerted and it is becoming a question of the intervention of the law. The police seldom exert the authority which they have to stop or reduce noise. There are practically no cases coming before the courts involving making a nuisance by means of noise. Motor manufacturers do not seem to be concentrating on making their vehicles less noisy, and practically no control is exercised over the character of horns and other noise-making instruments which may be used. It is in these connections that legal remedy should be applied. The problem exists everywhere in these days of rapidly growing motor traffic.

The plea made to the Provincial Government to re-establish a number of returned men who find themselves without work at this late date after the Armistice constitutes a reminder of a duty which should never be forgotten. Re-establishment is everybody's business. The Provincial Government should do what is possible, and even make it possible to do its full share. There is, too, a Minister of Pensions and Civil Re-establishment in the Federal Government who has primary responsibility where returned soldiers are concerned. His aid for these local cases, about which a plea has been made, should also be invoked. Dr. J. H. King, the responsible Minister, has been on the spot for he was a visitor in the West for several weeks to assist the Liberals in the Victoria by-election.

The Chinese, or at least the mandarins among them, have as yet shown no particular enthusiasm for golf. As a pedestrian pursuit it is regarded as belonging to the category of things to be pursued by the hewers of wood and the drawers of water. The New York Times says, "the story is told of a high mandarin who watched golf for a while on a links near Canton. 'Why don't you hire coolies to do it?' he inquired. 'And, like Pilate, did not stay for an answer.'"

THE PIPER

The Lowland and the stranger folk have bonnie tunes we know.

Tunes that make the blood afire and set the heart aglow; But the music set for Highland hearts is in the Piper's play.

In the Pibrochs, the Marches, the Reels and the Strathspeys.

A Piper came to our street, up there upon the Hill. At tuning o' his bagpipes my heart it gied a thrill.

His kilt was ragged tartan and his tunic far new, But he cocked his bonnet brawly, as the Pipers all ways do.

Then he played his proudest music, and strutted down the Street, And I heard the cries o' battle, and the sound o' running feet.

Saw the Clans come over the Heather, and charge among their foes, As they did with Bonnie Charlie, or in battle for Montrose.

Syne he waited for lost Culloden and for Flodden's royal dead, O' the woe and lamentation in the tunes that Piper played!

Then he sang o' auld Clan forays, and he told the old-time tales O' the Bens and Glens, and Heroes in the land that was the Gaels.

Then he stopped his proudest marching, his foot beat out the key, And I heard a mother crooning over the baby on her knee.

Then sang o' a' the Ceilidhs—lang syne I heard then In the land I've never forgotten in my mother's Gaelic tongue.

O' the stranger and the Lowland folk, have bonnie tunes we know, Tunes that make the blood afire and set the heart aglow. But the music set for Highland hearts is in the Piper's play.

In the Pibrochs, the Marches, the Reels and the Strathspeys.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

If the rulers of the world, as they must talk or "bandy words," would talk about the weather instead of about the short-comings and the on-goings of their neighbors, the prospects for peace and tranquility would be brighter. Not that bitter words lead to peace, but that words of peace and tranquility lead to peace. The world is a big place, and the peace between nations, although they sometimes provoke breaches of the peace between neighbors. The bulldog is the only animal we know of that plunges into conflict without any preliminary verbal recriminations, and when he begins a battle it is always with a grim determination to "fight to the death" either of himself or of his adversary.

But of course we must make allowances for the conditions of the weather in different parts of the world. Few parts of the world have had such weather as we have had in this part of the world to talk about. When the people of the Eastern parts of the continent have such weather at certain parts of the year as we have had at this season of the year, the poets among them burst into song and sing about the frost upon the pumpkin. In this part of the world the weather is not not enough in Summer to produce pumpkins and hardly ever cold enough at any time to put frost upon them if we produced them. So that we cannot sing about the weather. The utmost we can do is talk about it, and no harm can be done by doing that, except possibly when the envious scribes of the Vancouver press become angry and strive to "bandy words" with us about it.

There was a lull in the "bandying of words" until President Coolidge, upon Armistice Day of all the days of the year, "banded the ball roll." By making a speech about armaments and disarmaments and charging Europe, jealous of the secure position and peaceful inclinations of America, with responsibility for the dead-lock in the movement. That speech, which may not have been intentionally provocative, actually proved provocative. Lord Birkenhead said something about it, and when His Lordship says anything, he says it to some purpose. He has an ample command of words and considerable dexterity in the application of them. Then Lord Robertson had something to say, and Aristotle Briand said the last word for the present, declaring that it was not Europe, but America, that must be charged with responsibility for failure of the concord between Europe and America.

We do not "approve" of that kind of talk, not that that is of any particular consequence, but the result of such recrimination may be of considerable consequence. If people must talk, we wish they would talk as Mr. Baldwin always talks and Lord Birkenhead can talk when he is in the humor and his subject is worthy of his position and his abilities. The noble lord and all the common people of Great Britain are more deeply interested in the gallant fight the King of the Realm, lying on a sick bed in Buckingham Palace, is waging against disease than they are in the squabbling of politicians. His Lordship is now a newspaper man and a member of the British Press Club. Speaking to the Press Club on Tuesday night, Lord Birkenhead paid the following tribute to King George:

"We are apt to forget that, great as is the attachment of the outlying Dominions to the character, example and achievements of the people of these small islands, it would be an idle dream to suppose that that attachment could express itself in permanent terms unless it were founded upon some romantic and historical conception. At the last Imperial Conference, particularly in the speeches of the representatives of South Africa and the Irish Free State, it was made plain and plain that it was the link of the crown upon the strength of which alone could be supported our sense of advantage of self-governing communities. Never to a republic could there be that allegiance. The personality of him who at a given moment wears the crown is an asset which counts far more than the reputation of any statesman, however brilliant. Only when we have felt, as in the last few days, that there has been grave risk to the life of one who, unobtrusively and by constant service, has contributed more to the fortunes of the Empire than any ten men in that Empire, only at such a moment could we realize the anxieties which are shared by the men of our Empire in every part of the world."

The Prime Minister is not addicted to the vice of "bandying words." He is not a rhetorician like Mr. Lloyd George. He is not a Gladstone in Parliamentary debates. But he is a great leader of unequalled popularity because of the quality of the speeches he makes and the variety of the subjects upon which he speaks without preparation, speeches which appeal to the emotions as well as to the intellects of the common as well as the uncommon people. Have you ever read very much that was finer than this?

There are two things today that I believe will help materially to peace. I came down one Sunday morning at Chiquers a few minutes before my breakfast was ready, and I went to the window and saw that all round Europe to see if anything was coming through at nine o'clock in the morning, by chance I saw some exiguous music in Berlin, and heard shortly the singing of a hymn. I thought immediately that when the day comes when nearly every country in the world can be reached on to any nation in Europe and near the peoples of Europe at their music, their dancing, hymn-singing, and prayers, that a sound that will be throughout the world. Look back on your own childhood. Look back at the people in the country you used to live in. We in England regarded every one who lived across the seas as savages, pagans. We knew nothing about them; we were not interested in them; they were "those foreigners," and when the mass of the people realize that, in whatever country in Europe a man lives, he is a human being like himself, with a family and family life, a wireless set, with his services on Sunday, his dancing in the evening, and with his letters, war presents a very different aspect, and I believe that wireless—ordinary, common, or garden wireless—is going to be one of the greatest bonds between the common people of the whole world, and it is the common people who in the long run will decide whether there will be war or not.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

Sir.—In Tuesday's Colonist mention is made of a proposal to spend an extra $4,000 on garbage collection. Might I suggest, especially during the heavy winter months, that the garbage men either refuse to take stuff that could easily be burnt, as paper, garden refuse, vegetable matter and the like, from a house, or else charge a small fee for its removal. In Los Angeles, two tins are provided, one for ashes and empty tins, another for waste food suitable for feeding hogs with. The first is collected by the city, the latter by the hog farms, all paper and the like being burned in a small private incinerator in the back garden, usually at a slight heater or similar appliance.

If householders would only burn stuff that is easily put into the kitchen stove or furnace, it would not only help the garbage collection but save an increased outlay and still another rise in taxes.

ELECTION OFFICERS AND THE PRESS

Sir.—In your report of the election in this morning's paper under the subheading "Press Returns Lacking," it is stated that "according to the Act" certificates of the vote signed by the deputy returning officer must be delivered to the press, and that in several cases this was not done.

I beg to state that there is no such requirement in the act and that the giving of information to the press, or even the admission of press representatives to the booth where counting is in progress, is a matter of courtesy entirely in the discretion of the deputy returning officer in charge of the booth. It is also stated that "there were not enough tally sheets to go around." As no "tally sheets" are issued at all that is not surprising. It is also stated that you will give this letter the same prominence as was given to the criticism of the work of the election officials, who at the end of a long and very harassing day might be excused for objecting to adding another to the many documents which each deputy returning officer has to fill out after the ballots are counted.

Returning Officer,

TECHNICAL SCHOOL

Sir.—The letter of your correspondent, Walter Dandridge, referring to the above subject prompts me to forward the following comments:

What is popularly known as "technical" education is the training of boys and girls for vocations other than the professions. Nobody seems to have any objection to the use of the educational machinery which exists for the training of professional men, but when it is suggested to give the same opportunity to those (the majority) who must follow the humbler walks of life, there is always an outcry, and strangely enough it frequently comes from those who stand most to benefit—the members of the working class.

At present every child who enters the public school is headed for the university and professional life, but only ten per cent being able to do the work of the training of professional men, the technical school proposal gives the opportunity to those who know they cannot enter the professional ranks to direct their school studies into channels which will be of practical use to them when their school life ends.

To compel every child to follow the same course and spend years studying subjects which will never be of use in later life is a waste of human effort, and incidentally, of the taxpayers' money.

The cost of operating a school to teach practical subjects is slightly higher than a school to teach classical subjects. Shall we, therefore, compel all students to take classics?

Victoria's experience in education reminds me of the housewife who fills her market basket with "real bargains" for which she has no use. I would also point out that against the somewhat higher cost of technical education is placed the saving of what is now lost in the re-education of those who cannot pass their grades because they are forced to study subjects they cannot assimilate.

I should like to ask your correspondent if he thinks the problem of placing the students of our school after their education is completed will be more difficult if half of them are taught to use a hammer and saw instead of a microscope or a brush and palette?

ALBERT YOUNG,
2541 Fernwood Road, Victoria, B.C., December 5, 1928.

SCHOOL BY-LAW MEETING CALLED

Trustees Will Explain Technical School Project to Electorate on Tuesday Night

A public meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Girls' Central School on Tuesday night, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of explaining the Technical School by-law that is to be voted upon by the electorate at the civic election on December 13. Several of the school trustees will speak at this meeting. The by-law asks for $145,000 with which to erect a technical high school that will cost $250,000. The Provincial and Dominion Government, will provide the remaining amount of money required to carry out the undertaking.

Trustee W. T. Strath stated yesterday that a letter had been written to every property holder in the city explaining the by-law in every detail, and that the letter had also been sent to members of the various service clubs of the city.

CHRISTMAS OFFERS GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO HELP NEAR EAST

Mr. P. Landsberg writes to The Colonist: "I am just in receipt of a letter from headquarters in Toronto, who are working under the auspices of the Duke of Athol, K.T., appealing to me to obtain financial assistance for the Near East Relief. They stress the point of the Golden Rule Christmas particularly."

"What is a Golden Rule Christmas?"

"A Golden Rule Christmas affords an opportunity during the Christmas holiday season, when gifts are given and received in the home and homeland, to remember those in need of help. In Los Angeles, for example, the League of Nations co-operate in a Golden Rule Day for the benefit of the needy women and children refugees in Bible Lands, thus aiding in creating the spirit of good will among the nations of the world; in fostering international brotherhood and, by helping the helpless, translating the Golden Rule in the actual and practical."

"Golden Rule gatherings are held annually in Geneva, Paris and other world centres as a project in practical religion. It is, therefore, the most universal movement of a humanitarian character. The date set apart for this demonstration of the Golden Rule is usually early in December; in the present instance the joint committee suggests the time during the Christmas holiday season would be appropriate for this special remembrance."

"A cable message reads: 'New Lord Mayor of London accepts presidency Armenian Fund, commands work to generous interest of British people throughout world.'"

Jots From History

CHRISTOPHER Columbus, the great navigator who discovered the Americas in 1492, made his own way in the world by drawing maps and charts when he was a boy. At fourteen he went to sea and sailed to New Spain on the famous Santa Maria. After persevering for years, he succeeded in financing an expedition to the west in search of the East Indies. His three ships spent over two months on the ocean before they came to the American continent. After his discovery he was hailed as a great man, but fourteen years later died in poverty and neglect.

Camera Tells Graphic Story of Smuggling

First hand evidence of how the alien smuggling from Canada into the United States is carried on at Detroit is graphically portrayed by these snapshots captured by men of the United States border patrol just as they stepped out of a rowboat on the United States shore near Ecorse, a suburb of Detroit. One ingenious method of smuggling men across the river has just been discovered when a man was found in the specially constructed roof over the driver's seat of this moving van; (2) and an investigation has shown that this vehicle has been making daily trips for a whole year from Windsor to Detroit to bring back empty beer barrels and bottles from the American city. In the description of this truck sent last week to all border patrol men on the Detroit front, it is explained that the chamber above the driver's seat is big enough to hold four men. They are instructed to be on the watch for similar trucks in their sections. Picture (1) shows the men being marched off in custody after being apprehended. In No. (3) the men are being searched immediately after landing. (4) shows the rowboat bearing the smugglers and smuggled, nearing the United States shore.

B.C. EGG AND POULTRY POOL IS EXPANDING

Gratifying Reports Are Received at Meeting of More Than Fifty Members in Victoria

ACTIVE CANVASS NOW PROCEEDING

At an enthusiastic meeting of nearly fifty poultrymen who have signed contracts in connection with the British Columbia Egg and Poultry Pool, held in the maple room at the Parliament Buildings, gratifying reports were received of the progress made to date, and plans were made for an intensive drive in the final sign-up campaign.

Contract signers were present from the Laxton, Metchoin, Happy Valley, Langford, Colwood, Ross, Oak and Saanichton Districts. Mr. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, secretary to the advisory board of the farmers' institutes, who is taking a keen interest in the pool, was voted to the chair.

Alan Georgeson, of Gordon Head, who has been acting as the provisional director for the southern part of the island, gave an extensive account of his stewardship. He reported that out of the objective of 1,500 producers with flocks of two hundred birds and over, more than seven hundred had signed contracts to date, and an active canvass was proceeding in the heavy production areas of the Mainland with much success. On the Island, Courtenay and Parksville had a 75 per cent sign-up. As there already a co-operative company operating in Duncan, very little pool organization work has been done in that locality, but there was no doubt that Duncan would be finally linked up with the pool had come into successful operation. Salt Spring Island had secured enough members to form a local pool.

DELAY EXPERIENCED

In reply to questions, Mr. Georgeson said although there had been some delay in securing the pool objective, he thought the organization would be on a far better basis because of it, as it afforded time for proper consideration of all the issues involved. Mr. Georgeson went on to say that E. D. Dines had resigned as secretary, and George M. Swan, an enthusiastic "pooler" who had taken a very prominent part in the organization work, had been appointed to carry the campaign to a conclusion.

Mr. C. H. Borden, of Lake Hill, reported that twenty-one contracts had been signed on the Saanich Peninsula, and a strong committee was appointed to make a personal canvass of the district in an endeavor to secure the necessary number of sign-ups.

Mr. R. B. Jeffery stated that there was almost a solid sign-up at Langford, and Mr. Frank Goodsell, of Happy Valley, reported that the committee was hard at work in that district.

A SAANICH LOCAL?

There appeared to be definite prospects for the formation of a local for the Saanich District in the immediate future, and another local embracing Langford, Happy Valley, Laxton and Metchoin.

Some question was raised regarding the sale of eggs direct by contract holders to consumers. There is a prohibition clause in the contract, but the provisional directors subsequently passed a resolution stating that in their opinion would not be an infringement of the contract to make sales of not less than fifteen dozen at any one time direct to the consumer, this provision being subject to ratification at the annual meeting of the producers. It was reported that several more signatures could be obtained if a covering letter to this effect were attached to the contract, and steps were taken to have such a letter drawn up by the pool officials.

Owing to pressure of work and his affiliation with other organizations which required a great deal of his time, Mr. Georgeson resigned as provisional director, but said he was still heart and soul with the movement. ## WHEAT RATES BELOW COST SAYS BOARD

United States Federal Railway Board Refuses to Lower Rates to Level of Those in Canada

CANADIAN RATE IS 5.33 CENTS LOWER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(Canadian Press Cable).—United States railroads cannot compete with Canadian railroads in the transportation of grain on the basis of present Canadian rates from the wheat belt to the seaboard.

This is the conclusion reached by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its report to the Senate in an ex-parte statement on the "priority of rates similar to the Canadian rates on grain, livestock and other agricultural products in the Northwest."

Says the report: "The Canadian grain rates are made under conditions that do not obtain in the United States."

It then gives the history of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, refers to concessions granted both by the Government of Canada and relates facts concerning the establishment and enforcement of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement on grain rates in Western Canadian provinces.

At Less Than Cost
The report here adds: "The advantage to the Canadian producer in the rail rate is 5.33 cents a bushel. The testimony and investigation show that in Western Canada wheat is hauled on all railroads to the head of the Lakes at rates three cents a bushel less than in 1897, despite increases in operation costs during the past generation. It is an unavoidable inference that wheat is being hauled at less than cost and that the Canadian Government, so far as national railways are affected, is bearing the loss."

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Altogether wheat gave a good account of itself, notwithstanding pressure of scattered liquidation and selling by locals. There was lack of aggressive support most of the day, but evening up accounts for the holiday resulted in recovery of a good part of the loss after prices had made new lows for the week.

There was nothing disclosed in news of the day to account for the recession, but Northwest exerted considerable pressure in the way of selling. Export demand showed improvement with sales in all positions placed at $60,000 to $80,000, and a better inquiry reported for Manitoba. India continues to buy Australian wheat. Liverpool closed higher, but it had relatively little effect here. This was the last session in the old building and a good deal of time was given up to celebration of the event.

Expectation of increased receipts of corn over the double holiday and the large arrivals today, together with evening up of trades for the week-end, caused rather heavy selling of corn during the morning, but about half the loss was regained. Very good support was evident in the deferred deliveries. Much of the selling was credited to professional speculators, but the news was bullish rather than otherwise. There will be no session tomorrow.

WHEAT RATES BELOW COST SAYS BOARD

United States Federal Railway Board Refuses to Lower Rates to Level of Those in Canada

CANADIAN RATE IS 5.33 CENTS LOWER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(Canadian Press Cable).—United States railroads cannot compete with Canadian railroads in the transportation of grain on the basis of present Canadian rates from the wheat belt to the seaboard.

This is the conclusion reached by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its report to the Senate in an ex-parte statement on the "priority of rates similar to the Canadian rates on grain, livestock and other agricultural products in the Northwest."

Says the report: "The Canadian grain rates are made under conditions that do not obtain in the United States."

It then gives the history of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, refers to concessions granted both by the Government of Canada and relates facts concerning the establishment and enforcement of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement on grain rates in Western Canadian provinces.

At Less Than Cost
The report here adds: "The advantage to the Canadian producer in the rail rate is 5.33 cents a bushel. The testimony and investigation show that in Western Canada wheat is hauled on all railroads to the head of the Lakes at rates three cents a bushel less than in 1897, despite increases in operation costs during the past generation. It is an unavoidable inference that wheat is being hauled at less than cost and that the Canadian Government, so far as national railways are affected, is bearing the loss."

Mr. Anscomb Talks to His Campaigners

Mr. Herbert Anscomb, candidate for mayor, addressed an enthusiastic gathering of his campaign workers in the board room of Belmont House last night, and dealt with points of issue, particularly those recently raised by Alderman P. R. Brown in his first radio speech of the campaign.

With reference to Oak Bay tax reduction, Alderman Brown had said Mr. Anscomb had been able to make a reduction in the mill rate because he had imposed the improvement tax, by virtue of which additional revenue was obtained.

Mr. Anscomb pointed out that the improvement tax was imposed in 1924, and he only assumed office as mayor in 1925. The answer was conclusive in itself, Mr. Anscomb said. One had no bearing on the other.

He told his supporters that he would hold a mass meeting in the Coliseum Theatre on Monday night, to which the other mayoral candidates had been invited. He will speak over the radio at 8 o'clock tonight, and also at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. On Wednesday he would speak over the radio at 7:30 o'clock, after which he would proceed to Alderman Brown's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

A successful bridge and what was held on Wednesday evening at Amphion Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, Chapter 1, O.E.B., in aid of various charities and institutions in the city. The success of the evening was chiefly due to the co-operation of many business houses in the city, who donated prizes and monetary gifts.

The successful winners were: Ladies' bridge, first, Mrs. W. Peden; second, Mrs. H. Mallet; consolation, Mrs. Campbell; Gentlemen, first, Mr. S. Roberts; second, Mr. J. Meldrum; consolation, Mr. R. Promson. Whist, first, Mr. Peden; second, Mr. Meldrum; consolation, Mrs. Ridgeway and partner; consolation, Mrs. Cockin and partner.

At the Garrison Church of St. Paul, Requiem, the services next Sunday are: Holy communion, 8 a.m.; matins and sermon, 10:30 a.m.; evening and service, 7 p.m. The attention of all is called to the importance of the Advent season, and the hope is entertained that full congregations attend the services leading up to Christmas.

FAULTS IN DIET ARE DISCLOSED

Diseases of Gums, Teeth, Intestinal Tract and Bones Traced to Lack of Vitamin C

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 6.—Disclosing facts which he believes may account for much that is wrong with the world, George Walker, Baltimore physician and research worker, a few days ago laid before the American Dietetic Association the initial results of a study of the eating habits of 750 families, ranging from the very poor to the very rich. Practically all of these he has studied, he said, whether they average only 50 cents a day for each individual, or $1.50 consume too little of the essential minerals, too much of the vegetable and too little of the animal proteins.

With reference to Oak Bay tax reduction, Alderman Brown had said Mr. Anscomb had been able to make a reduction in the mill rate because he had imposed the improvement tax, by virtue of which additional revenue was obtained.

Mr. Anscomb pointed out that the improvement tax was imposed in 1924, and he only assumed office as mayor in 1925. The answer was conclusive in itself, Mr. Anscomb said. One had no bearing on the other.

He told his supporters that he would hold a mass meeting in the Coliseum Theatre on Monday night, to which the other mayoral candidates had been invited. He will speak over the radio at 8 o'clock tonight, and also at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. On Wednesday he would speak over the radio at 7:30 o'clock, after which he would proceed to Alderman Brown's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Among children in public institutions, he told the dietitians, he found that, while they get enough of the carbohydrates, chiefly white bread and potatoes, not to be hungry, they are deficient in vitamins. He said that he had received the variety and kinds of food necessary for normal growth and future health. They could be fed properly, he estimated, on $2.25 cents a day at wholesale prices.

COST ESTIMATED
For the average growing child, living at home, he calculated, a minimum expenditure of $7.31 cents a day, at retail prices, is necessary, and for their parents and grown-up brothers and sisters, $4.58 cents. The difference is largely accounted for by the fact that the child needs at least a quart of milk, rich in animal proteins, calcium and phosphorus, every day, while a pint will do for the adults.

Dr. Walker based his conclusions on analysis of the foods actually consumed during weekly or longer periods by white and negro families in the light of the most advanced dietary knowledge. Of 300 family food accounts representing a daily individual expenditure around 45 cents, all showed deficiencies of one kind or another, he said, which could easily be corrected without adding to the cost. State agencies capable of giving such advice, he suggested, would fill an important public need.

The general deficiency in fibre consumption, contributing to a number of human ailments, he thought, was a result of the tendency to pass up the coarse foods, raw and cooked, in favor of the more attractive, highly-refined products from which most, if not all, of the "roughage" has been removed. The lack of the blood-building element of iron in 49 per cent of the food accounts analyzed, however, appeared to be more closely associated with economic conditions.

Big Liquor Gang Believed Broken By Arrests Made
VANCOUVER, Dec. 7.—With five men under arrest and with Texada Island closely guarded by a force of provincial officers, customs preventive officials believe that they have broken up one of the biggest gangs ever engaged in the illicit manufacture of liquor in British Columbia.

Three men were arrested on Thursday when search of Texada Island was continued following the discovery of the alleged illicit distillery at Pechonias Bay on Wednesday. The discovery was made following an intensive search by R.C.A.P. seaplanes and by customs patrol vessels.

"What is Schmidt doing now?" "He opened a shop recently." "Successfully?" "No, he was caught."

The congregation sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" as the bride entered the church, which had been very prettily decorated by her girl friends. During the signing of the register Miss Stella Burton sang "My World" with Mr. P. T. C. Wickert at the organ. Rev. A. E. L. Munro performed the marriage ceremony.

Owing to the illness of her father, the bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Gerald Cross, and was charmingly dressed in a gown of deep blue velvet with a wide white lace collar and long sleeves, a tiered knife-edge train, and a wide white lace belt with a diamond pendant and bracelet to match. ## A NO-MAR MASTERPIECE IN ART MODERNE

Art Moderne—with its intriguing individuality, its geometric forms, simple lines and stark plainness—how skillfully have the No-Mar craftsmen caught the spirit of the age and expressed it in this new creation.

This suite immediately wins those who are looking for something new in furniture, and at the same time, its simplicity and modification meet with the approval of the most conservative.

Although strikingly new in design, the Moderne Suite retains the traditional No-Mar quality and value and has the enduring No-Mar finish which is impervious to household accidents such as spilled hot water, ink, medicine or any other liquid.

Any of the leading furniture stores will gladly show you the No-Mar Moderne Suite

At The Playhouses

PLAYHOUSE "The best yet" is the opinion voiced by many of the Playhouse patrons. Although the Parker Co. have been here less than three weeks they have created a following that few shows can boast of in as many months of effort. The feature musical number this week is a harmony duet by Les Everson and Chleo Goffe. Miss Beatrice Dayton presents a comedy dance that pleases. Tommy Parker sings a comedy number that is a howl. Also "Tommy and Les" sing a comedy double that calls for many encores. This show is well balanced and is sure to please the most critical.

COLUMBIA Several dozen gentlemen experienced steel workers form the realistic "atmosphere" in William Boyd's new DeMille film "Skyscraper," now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Howard Higgin, who directed this comedy drama, selected the men from scores of applicants, choosing a group whose appearance and knowledge as steel workers warranted their being cast in the picture.

CAPITOL Owls and frogs take THEATRE part in "The Haunted House," First National mystery picture now at the Capitol Theatre. It is true that these silent actors have little to do, but they

Scene of Jollity Will Be Reproduced

Scene of last year's City Temple Fair and Circus. A similar event is to be staged at the Armories on December 19, 20, 21, 22.

Artists Are Engaged for Fair-Circus

The management of the fair and circus to be held at the Armories by the City Temple announces the engagement of the following performers:

Letourneau, aerial performers, single trap, routine act, dare-devils of the air, sensational chair drop artists; Carmean Sisters, swinging ladder acrobatic act; Jack Nickles, king of clowns, and his pig; Captain Jack Lorenzo, equestrian director and trainer of the animals; Cherry and Malone, trampoline artists; Mile Loretta, acrobatic performer; The Three Naths, hand-balancing acrobats, equilibrist extraordinary; Mark and Stella Smith, sensational bareback riders.

Every group comes either from Ringling Brothers, Barnum's, A. I. Barres' circuses, or from the Keith and Orpheum circuits. They represent the most expensive artists in this field and the management is determined to more than double the attractions of former fairs. This represents only one section of the entertainment which will be offered those in attendance at the big fair which will be held for four afternoons and four evenings, from December 19 to 22.

Applicants for Baby Show forms should phone 3649.

BITE OF SQUIRREL RESULTS IN DEATH

NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 7.—Thomas George Davies, sixty-nine, died in St. Mary's hospital last night from blood poisoning.

According to friends, Mr. Davies had been in the habit of feeding squirrels, and about three weeks ago one of his pets was injured. Picking up the animal to examine it, he was bitten in the thumb and the squirrel had to be pulled away before releasing its hold.

The animal died shortly after. Mr. Davies was an old-timer of the Royal City, having resided here for thirty years. He was a florist.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Frank and Thomas J., and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Hughes, all residing here.

"BARBERRY BUSH"

One Girl's Marriage Problems
By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Barberry," Barry said solemnly, when she had stopped speaking, and for awhile there had been no sound in the dim old room, "you won't be sorry. This is the turning point of my whole life! I'll make you proud of me yet."

Did she believe him? She would have liked to believe him. But under the familiar accents, the eager, confident promises, she only saw and heard the old Barry, undisciplined and vacillating and changeable with every wind.

He believed himself, she knew, as he gripped her with the hungry fervour or relief from unendurable solitude, and poured out to her the story of the past few months, the disappointments and disillusionments, the frustrated designs and ruined hopes.

There had been a presentation of Napoleon Third in New York City; Barry's pocketbook was bulging with flattering press notices. He was the new Keats, the new Shelley; Du Spain was to be "watched from further demonstrations of his extraordinary gift."

But the play had been performed but eight times, and the producer was even now trying to come to some settlement with the outraged members of an unpaid caste. Barry could only gather that Barry had assuaged his disappointment in a prolonged interval of interpenetration before he had managed to work borrow, and beg his way home.

Thirty-two hundred miles from New York City to Cottonwood, penniless, discouraged, alone—it had been like a nightmare, he said, when I got back. "I kept thinking if I would once get to you, Barberry Bush, once see you and get my arms about you again, nothing would matter! I kept thinking that if once I were here, safe, talking it over with you, everything would be all right! As the miles went by, and I got nearer and nearer, it was like a sort of fever."

"Barberry — Barberry — Barberry — he repeated the name. Ward, and Amy, and your old blue kitchen aprons, and your way of seeing things clearly—I was so hungry for you! I thought

"Lord, what a day—what a day!" he ejaculated. "I lay awake all night, worrying—heart-broken, after what you had said. This morning your father and that old ass Cobb came in, to tell me that I was all wrong in thinking that I was my property and you were my wife, and that you were going to move into the Mackenzie place."

PAVILION FOR BEACON HILL PARK SOUGHT

Chamber of Commerce Directors Endorse Proposal for More Band Concerts Here in Summer Months

MAJOR HOLMES GIVES REPORT

The Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday endorsed the request which will be made to the City Council by a joint committee of the Real Estate Board and the chamber that the city erect a pavilion in Beacon Hill Park, to be used for supplying light refreshments, that provision be made for the holding of band concerts in the neighborhood of the pavilion, and that revenue derived by the city from such concession should be used to supply additional band concerts.

Major H. Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Real Estate Board and a director of the chamber, reported on behalf of the joint committee on band concerts. The committee believed it would prove very beneficial to increase the amount of music in the city during the summer months, and would do much to provide entertainment for tourists and encourage them to stay longer in Victoria, and in a number of cases to become permanent residents.

The speaker said the committee would ask the City Council to vote sufficient money for band concerts, and also to include in its estimates provision for a pavilion at Beacon Hill Park. It was felt that a considerable amount could be raised from private sources to augment the money voted by the council for the concerts.

CREATE ATTRACTIONS
These projected improvements would, in the opinion of the committee, create attractions for both the citizens of Victoria and tourists, and would therefore be the means of popularizing Beacon Hill Park. The committee believes that the cost of constructing a pavilion at the park would not be very great," he declared.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY AIDS

Activities of Near East Relief Will Be Bright Spot in History of Christianity

BY HENRY MORSETHAU
I have often thought of how future historians who study the American people will be puzzled as to what prompted our general selfishness and isolation. They will observe our unprecedented prosperity, our apparent inexhaustible resources, our great mass production bringing comfort within the reach of everyone, and our having been until recently a haven of the refugees of all countries.

It will be inexplicable to these historians that a people so favored should turn a deaf ear to the pitiful appeals of their European brothers and practically tell them to depend on themselves and use the few remaining remnants of their strength to pull themselves out of the mire of distress caused by the war.

One of the few shafts of light in this dark picture are the activities of the Near East Relief, guardian of the minorities.

It is a shame that international law permits countries to treat their own citizens as they like and to disregard any interference by other countries. The destruction of the minorities can only be prevented by the moral influence exerted by nonpolitical agencies.

The Near East Relief has been such an influence, and it is astonishing how the industry and disinterestedness of its activities have influenced even the most recalcitrant spirits in control of the governments where mischief has been done.

The Near East Relief has a broadening horizon, as shown by its undertaking this wonderful Golden Rule movement, which aims to bring all people together to think and practice tolerance and a better understanding and respect for one another's good qualities.

The observance of Golden Rule Sunday will help to lessen the unfortunate hatreds and disorders that still prevail among mankind. One of the finest single thoughts that has ever been put into words is this phrase: "Do unto others as you would have them to do unto you."

For years thousands of people have wished that this doctrine should be universally adopted. Now millions are taking part in the movement.

It was a stroke of spiritual enlightenment which brought to the Near East Relief the thought of illustrating to the world the potency of the Golden Rule by thus outstretching hands across the sea to rescue and restore the suffering peoples to whom we Americans have no obligation except the supreme obligation of the common ties uniting in one family all the children of our Father God.

Teacher endeavoring to "push" the sales of the class photograph. "Now, children, imagine how you'll enjoy looking at this photograph when you grow up. As you look at it you'll say to yourselves, 'There's Mary. She's a nurse,' and 'There's Johnnie. He's a barber,' and—"

Pert voice (behind her): "And there's the teacher, she's dead."

VANCOUVER TAKES LEAD IN PACIFIC COAST HOCKEY

Head of Amateurs Condemns Work of Olympic Committee

President Lamb Names Mulqueen and Robinson in Charges—Debate Unfinished—Counter-Charges Are Made by Officials

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 7.—The controversy which has continued in athletic circles since Canada's participation in the Amsterdam Olympic games, was again a paramount matter before delegates here from coast to coast at the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, and tonight it remained unsettled. In his opening address Thursday, Dr. A. S. Lamb, president of the A.A.U. of C., launched his charges against certain officials who represented Canada at the Olympic games last Summer. He named P. J. Mulqueen, president of the Canadian Olympic committee, and "Bobby" Robinson, manager of the Dominion's track and field team.

Today, at a session of the Olympic committee, he continued again his broadside against the work of the committee members he had named, and submitted a lengthy report covering twenty-five questions, and fastidiously the delegates, defending the stand he had taken.

In reply, President Mulqueen, at a sensational session during the afternoon, answered many of the questions contained in Dr. Lamb's questionnaire, while Mr. Robinson announced that he would submit a written reply to the charges for presentation here.

CONDEMNED TACTICS
In his address today, Dr. Lamb praised the spirit and glorious achievements of Canadian athletes at Amsterdam, but condemned as deplorable tactics and bickering of some Canadian Olympic officials. He assailed in particular Mulqueen and Robinson, whose actions, he declared, amounted to "neglect of duty." He charged that the efficiency of the Canadian committee had been hampered by a lack of coordination and businesslike methods.

"Why is there so much political intrigue and such a hush-hush attitude adopted in connection with Olympic affairs?" said Dr. Lamb. "Would it not be wiser, he continued, 'to have a frank and open discussion on all matters?'"

Proclaiming his opinion that Canada will gain its deserved status in the athletic world by "fight," Mr. Mulqueen answered many of the questions placed before him in Dr. Lamb's questionnaire.

Mulqueen defended his move in pressing a protest in the ladies' 100-metre dash at the Olympics, when Dr. Lamb refused to be a party to the action. "I didn't playfoot or play to the gallery, or play politics," he said, "I was only protesting against anything in the nature of a protest."

In his reply Mulqueen accused J. H. Crocker, president of the Y.M.C.A. and Olympic officer, of having played politics when Dr. Lamb was chosen first officer of the Union at Edmonton last year and he accused Dr. Lamb, whom he characterized as "the great Dr. Lamb," as a seeker after laurels not his own.

MORE LEAVEY
Further leeway for amateurs competing in "pastimes" such as golf, basketball, tennis, etc., was also discussed.

Basketball Lessons

LONG SHOTS FOR BASKET

USE ONLY WHEN TEAM CANNOT BEAT OPPONENTS DEFENSE

When, if ever, should the very long shot for basket be employed? Why?

Answered By NELLS NORGREN

Coach of basketball, University of Chicago. Famous for the speed and fighting determination of his teams.

Ordinarily a coach should not encourage the shooting of very long shots for the basket by one of his players, for such a practice is the surest and quickest way of disrupting teamwork. If allowed to one player of a team, the long shooting becomes general, with the result that the players shoot for the basket as soon as they get their hands on the ball instead of manoeuvring the ball by team work up under the basket or within distance from which a basket may be thrown with reasonable hope of success.

There is, however, a situation in which the long shot may be used as part of the offence. When a team is up against a two-line, five-man defence composed of fast, experienced players and cannot work the ball through the defence within distance for a reasonable time for the basket, the three may be made from outside the defence, having the forwards and centre following up and taking the ball from the backboard if the basket is missed. The forwards and centre must start fast through the defence before the ball is thrown for the basket. To be successful, the timing of this play must be accurate.

British Empire Sports Meet to Go to Hamilton

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Dec. 7.—The British Empire games, which are scheduled to be held in Canada in August, 1930, have been awarded to Hamilton. The award was made at a session of the resolutions committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada here late tonight. The 1929 annual meeting of the association, it also was decided, will be held in Ontario, and there is a possibility that Hamilton may be selected as the convention city, although Toronto undoubtedly will make a bid.

CYCLEMEN CLIMB TO FIRST PLACE IN HOCKEY LOOP

Defeat Garrison 5-1—Brilliant Tube Wins Overtime Game From Rink Rats 3-2

FITZ TAKE FIRST DEFEAT OF SEASON

Pimley & Ritchie's puckchasers stepped into undisputed occupation of the premier berth in the hockey loop last night when they humbled the Garrison 5-1 for their third straight victory. Fitz tasted their first setback of the season when they went under 3-1 at the hands of the youthful Bapco squad. Brilliant Tube and the Rink Rats put up the flashiest exhibition of the evening, with the former winning by a 3-2 score, after two and a half minutes of overtime.

The league standing of the teams follows:

OVERTIME BATTLE

A stinging shot by Ivan Temple, hefty right winger of the Brilliant Tube, after two and a half minutes of overtime play, gave his teammates a 3-2 victory over the Rink Rats in the curtain raiser.

From the time that Referee Allan Tuckwell dropped the puck between the sticks of the respective centre men, until Temple's goal in the overtime session, the teams played at a terrific speed. There was plenty of good hockey, fine stick-handling and clever goal-tending crowded into the game, that was up to expectations and stole the spotlight from the whole show.

J. Stewart, fast forward of the Brilliant Tube squad, netted the only goal in the first period when he slipped the disc behind Vye, in the Rink Rats' cage.

Pomeroy, playing on the defence for the Rats, put the teams on even terms in the second session when he beat Hunter with a hot shot from the blue line.

Temple discounted this lead a few minutes later when he lifted the puck from centre ice and sagged the net that Vye was guarding.

The final period was only a few seconds old when Smart scored the winning goal for the Tubes. For the remainder of this session the teams traveled fast, checked heavily and in fact did everything but score.

The teams were: Brilliant Tube—Hunter, Woods, Patrick, Simpson, J. Stewart, Temple, Usher, D. Stewart, T. McKay and "Scotty" McKay.

Rink Rats—Vye, Sparks, Pomeroy, Symons, Smart, Bates, Spouse, Benwell, Nicholson and Kirby.

FITZ GO LONER

Two goals by Lawson and one by Usher gave Bapco a 3-1 victory over Fitz in the second game. The losers, with only six men, found the going tough against a team that had plenty of substitutes.

In the first period the winners netted the only counter when Lawson pushed the puck home after Ingram had saved from Baylis. The second session was only a few minutes old when Marcotte sagged the hump behind Emery for the equalizer.

The cyclist outplayed the Tommy of the slippery surface and sent in a high shot at Ingram. The goalie saved but "Red" Lawson met the rebound and scored. Unwin slipped the rubber between Ingram's legs a short time later for the final score of the game.

The third period saw the losers fighting hard to equalize, but the opposing defence was airtight.

The teams were: Bapco—Emery, McCannell, McGregor, Chatton, Lawson, Baylis, Unwin, McPhee and Bleasdale. Fitz—Ingram, King, Hall, Mar-cotte, Ptasimunas and "Moore" Allan.

CYCLEMEN WIN

In the final game Pimley & Ritchie's smooth working hockey machine defeated the Garrison for a 5-1 victory, which, incidentally, is the largest score that has been chalked up this season.

The cyclist outplayed the Tommy from all angles, and although he allowed the puck to rest in his net five times, Hollingsworth, Garrison goalie, turned in a great performance. The downfall of his team was not in his goalkeeping, but in the poor defence that stood in front of him.

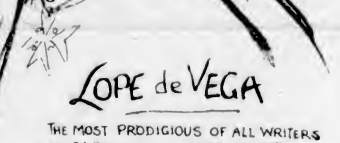

Norman Tyrell sagged the hump three times for Pimley & Ritchie, while Frank Tyrell and O'Neill each

Callahan Quits Ring; Two Bouts Are Canceled

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Mushy Callahan, world's welterweight champion, has retired from the ring, according to word received here by friends of Eddie Sears, manager of Callahan. Sears is in Los Angeles, Callahan's home town.

Sears said he had persuaded Callahan to go into business in Los Angeles rather than risk injury in the ring. The fighter's retirement will cost him and Sears something like $40,000 as the result of the cancellation of his proposed bouts with Jimmy McLarnin and Ruby Goldstein here, which had been expected to draw huge gates.

Jerwa's Goal Gives Lions 1 to 0 Victory Over Seattle Esk

Captain Art Somers Plays Great Game as Vancouver Goes to Top of League—Lone Marker Comes as Great Surprise

SEATTLE, Dec. 7.—Vancouver Lions took a hockey game and the Pacific Coast Hockey Association lead away from the Eskimos here tonight with a sensational and hard fought 1-0 victory. A goal scored by Joe Jerwa twenty seconds after the third period opened proved the opening and final wedge in the Seattle defence.

Jerwa's goal was one of those things that "Lady Luck" and perseverance combine to bring about. He was stopped cold just back of the goal line, but instead of letting down the big Vancouver defence man kept on, recovered the puck and with a wholly unexpected shot beat Hal York, both Pridham and Johanneau had Jerwa covered, but they both let down, apparently each thinking the other fellow would complete the play, and Jerwa's presence of mind did the rest.

MANY THRILLS

Except for that one goal there was never anything except thrills. Seattle sank one after Mickey Ion had blown for time to lose Joe Jerwa off the first period, but never after that were they able to get clear through the Vancouver defence.

When Percy Jackson couldn't handle them it was the form of Captain Art Somers who did. Twice the Vancouver captain threw himself across the mouth of the goal to prevent almost certain goals when Jackson lay prone on the ice. Each time he stopped the puck, lay on it until the whistle blew and he could march his scattered defence again. Somers was especially in evidence in the defensive after that Vancouver goal. He had valuable assistance from Brennan and Jerwa, especially the former, who was steady as a rock.

The Seattle defence was decidedly off. They were failing to pass all through the first period, and when Manager Pete Muldoon gave them a lecture between periods they came out and overdid it. When they did settle down a bit the Vancouver defence tightened like a net and their efforts were wasted. Smokey Harris was the best man on the ice for the Eskimos. The younger edition of the Harris family played all night without a penalty, and played like a demon. He led most of the charges that looked like possible goals, but inevitably seemed to wind up in a corner when the Lions were through with him.

The Line-ups

Vancouver: Goal—Jerwa. Defence—Johanneau, Brennan, Pridham, Phillips, Somers. Forward—Brown, Sanderson, Harris, Dunn, Forward—Lindsay, McAdam, Forward—Kwanis, Cummings, Forward—Low, Arnott, Sutherland.

Summary

First period—No score. Penalties, Jerwa. Second period—No score. Penalties, Phillips, Sanderson, Pridham, Lindsay.

Third period—1, Vancouver, Jerwa. Penalties, Jerwa, Phillips, Cummings, Pridham.

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

USE OF PROVISIONAL BALL SAVES TIME AND STROKES

When do you advise using a provisional ball?

Answered By WILFIE OGG
New England Professional, Former Massachusetts Open, Shawnee Open Champion

According to rules, if the ball is lost or is unplayable when driven from the tee, the player must go back to the tee and drive another ball with a penalty of stroke and distance. In other words, after playing the second ball he lies three. When a ball is lost or is unplayable from any other stroke than the drive the player must return to the place from where he played and drop another ball. Penalty is the same, stroke and distance.

A lot of time can be saved by playing a provisional ball. Should the player have any reason to think that after playing a ball in bad rough, woods, swamps, etc., that it cannot be found another ball should be teed or dropped as the case may be. The first ball can be searched for and if found the provisional ball of course goes out of play. Otherwise continue play with the second ball, which saves a lot of time and strokes.

Three interesting hoop games are carded at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium tonight. In the opener, which starts at 7:30 o'clock, Navy and Keating, men's "C" teams, will be out fighting for second berth. As the situation stands at present they are tied, each having lost two games. The victors in tonight's struggle will take sole occupation of second berth.

The second battle will bring together the Red Birds and Nuggets ladies' "B" cagers. The former quintets are expected to come through with a win, but the Nuggets are one of those squads that will fight all of the way.

The final encounter will see Victoria Super Service and Crescents, intermediate "A" teams, in action. This game promises to be a fast and interesting affair.

Gold Hill—According to reports from the Gold Hill property at Boston Creek, better results are being had in the east drift on the 1,100-foot level than the average on upper levels. Values, it is said, are more consistent.

Almaden—The latest word on Almaden received at press time was that the Northern Miner was that diamond drilling on the 1,150-foot level had intersected thirty-seven feet of sulphides, low in grade as far as copper values are concerned. The drill is still in sulphides.

Kirkland Gold Belt—Mr. K. B. Kearney, M.E., after an examination of the property has just made a very encouraging report. He states that "assays from the main break show an ore body 135 feet long, with an average width of fifty-one inches, and average of $11.20 per ton."

Vipond—It is reported from Timmins that production from the Vipond this year will reach a total of close to $700,000, as against less than $450,000 last year. During the last three months the grade of ore was raised to approximately $8.25 a ton with total costs of less than $6, and a net return of $3 a ton is assured. This represents an annual net of around $200,000, which is more than double the earnings when the company paid a dividend in 1926.

Dome—An interesting feature of trading on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday was the interest in Dome Mines. Quite a volume of shares changed hands, which in itself is significant, as the president of Dome, Mr. Roche, is a member of the New York Stock Exchange. Dome closed at $9 in New York last night.

San Antonio—Winnipeg dispatches state that a meeting of the shareholders of San Antonio will be held in Toronto next month. This meeting is being called to sanction a by-law changing the head office of the company from Toronto to Winnipeg, and to ratify the proposal to change the capital from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000. Should the by-law be ratified a part of the new issue will be offered to the shareholders in the form of rights.

Abana—A well-known engineer who examined Abana a couple of days ago reports that only sufficient work has been completed on the 100-foot level to intersect the No. 1 vein. On the 200 the No. 2 vein was cut and the No. 1 vein intersected in the shaft. On the 300-foot level the vein has been opened up by crosscuts for 600 feet, that is 400 feet of the dyke and 200 feet east. Seven diamond drill holes have been put down from this level, and while he said no figures were available, five were reported to have cut ore. In his opinion insufficient underground work has been done to allow an actual estimate of $12,000,000 in reserves. He says in part: "Twelve million dollars of actual and probable ore may be said to be quite liberal."

Dalhousie No. 1—Back again full flow.

McLeod No. 3—Circulating oil now preparatory to drilling with diamond drill tonight.

McLeod No. 4—Will be drilling out bridge shortly. Likely to deepen well somewhat. Probably commence Saturday or Monday.

British Dominion—Entering the Dakotas, slight showing of oil.

Freehold—Rigging up additional boiler to generate steam with which put out flame. New derrick will be erected immediately.

A BETTER METHOD
Wicks was a wealthy man, and had succumbed to the motor craze and bought a new car. His neighbor was one of the first to view the new arrival when Wicks had driven it home from the garage. "But how on earth do you get into a thing like that?" he asked, staring doubtfully, first at Wicks' bulk and then at the baby car. His friend gave him a superior smile. "One doesn't get into it," retorted the genial Wicks. "One puts it on!"
